If the supplier breaches one of these obligations, he is liable to compensate us for the damages; we are furthermore entitled to withdraw from all concluded delivery contracts.
- 2. Quotation: The supplier is obliged to accept our orders in writing stating our order number within two weeks from receipt of the order. If the supplier does not accept within the time limit, we are no longer bound to our purchase order.
We can request insignificant modifications of the delivery time regarding construction and design. The supplier is obliged to give notice in writing of eventual effects particularly as regards additional costs and delivery dates without further delay.

This also applies to our material, processing and production rules.
- 4. Confidentiality: The contractual parties commit to treat all commercial and technical details which are not evident and that become known to them through this business relationship as business secrets. Subcontractors and subsuppliers shall be committed accordingly. The contractual parties may only use the business relationship for advertising purposes subject to a respective prior written consent.
